Who We Are:

School Life Is Many Things

To Many People . . .

School life is enlightenment;

it is giving . . .

it is experience and understanding;

disappointment

or fulfillment;

it is friendship and laughter;

spirit;

it is searching.

Secretaries Important To School District

Forgotten lunches, gym bags, and excuses flow into the offices from tolerant parents and into the hands of our secretaries. These staff members interrupt typing and filing and sorting attendance cards to locate the student.

Phones ring constantly in the junior, senior, guidance, and board of education offices. The secretaries take messages from parents, students, teachers and salesmen.

They help with working papers and excuses, prepare materials for Board of Education members, type a constant stream of letters, and keep our bulging guidance folders.

Many work during our summer vacation getting out orders for books and equipment, while others help the guidance counselors make out our schedule cards and prepare class lists.

Under the members of the English Department, the students of Chenango Valley are guided through six years of basic grammar, English composition, and literature. The largest department in the school, it is one of the few that is in contact with all the students through all six years of their education, and has the responsibility of preparing them for a third year regents. The members are presently engaged in an experiment involving a new reading program that will lead to a revision of the state syllabus. However, beyond their teaching duties, they sponsor such activities as the Quill, the Warrior, the Debate Club, and the Drama Club. A course in Journalism was offered this year for the first time. With the Chairmanship of Mr. Michael Reno and the addition to the faculty of Mr. Joseph Schwarz, this department will continue to enrich the students' knowledge and activities.

Discussions

Pensiveness strikes Mr. Dudash.

Generate Interest

Participation in the Youth Forum and the Maxwell Scholarship program aided the history department's goal of teaching students to become more aware of things going on around them.

Class discussions of liberalism versus conservatism generated interest and enthusiasm among the students. Through these debates they learned what to look for in a good political candidate which will help them to become better citizens.

State officials have announced through department head, Charles Osborne, that changes in the curriculum are being considered for the future.

Chenango Valley teachers aren't waiting for these changes. One-third of the department took advanced courses this year to become better acquainted with new methods of teaching. These methods are being incorporated in the history classes already to give the students a broader knowledge of the subject.

Added Interest Encourages Progress

New emphasis on mathematics intensified the curriculum and created added interest at Chenango Valley this year. Modern Math, included in a controversial revision of the State Syllabus, began in grades seven and eight. Mrs. Margaret Hardy again taught Advanced Placement Math, which last year gave college credit to seniors passing the examination given in May. Mr. Thomas Vianese, a recent addition to the faculty, taught junior high math.

Student interest fostered in class developed with programs such as the National Mathematics Contest and Mathaletics, a local organization. In the National Math Contest, sponsored by the Math Association of the American Society of Actuaries, Rodger Jones placed 18½ out of 3,197 participants in 1963-64. Rodger also led the C.V. team in the six-school-sponsored Mathaletics, placing second for the year.

Mrs. Hardy, chairman of the department, in accordance with revisions in elementary grades, conducted a refresher-instruction class for 34 elementary teachers during the first semester.

With greater emphasis being placed upon mathematics, in the classroom and in the technical world, the goal of C.V.'s math department is "to promote a better understanding of mathematics through modern techniques."

Challenging Year For Sciences

Building, growing, changing and readapting to scientific changes occurring during the year marks the development of the science department where aims may seem basic but are far reaching and complex.

Science on the Junior High level is aimed at building a foundation of basic principles that can be applied by the student every day. It is hoped that the student who stops with general science will benefit from the program. By comprehending a scientific conversation and better understanding the complex world of today, the department will have accomplished one of its major goals. Through the Junior High syllabus those students who are continuing in science will be prepared for the vast knowledge that lies ahead.

Senior High sciences are specialized to acquaint the individual with a specific area. Within these areas of biology, chemistry, and physics large concepts are broken down so that they can be applied to particulars and things in general. This is also a building process and the student who goes on to higher education will use these fundamental principles to build even greater knowledge.

New books and equipment have been put into use this year to aid both the students and teachers. Joining the staff this year in science was Mrs. Barbara Sthare who teaches various levels of Junior High.

It was a challenging year for the teachers, students and the department in general as new knowledge had to be added to the already great amount required.

Music, Art Contribute to C.V. Culture

Dressed in white bucks and carrying fiberglass suzaphones, C.V.'s band, directed by Mr. John Fako, attended every varsity football game this year, preparing the way to an undefeated season.

A small but growing orchestra and the Jr. High band were conducted by the Music Department chairman, Mr. Charles Fleming. Also on the staff were Mr. Richard Buchmaier for the junior chorus and Mrs. Avis Parsons with the senior high students.

Changes were made in the music curriculum, combining Theory I and II into one class, the Barber Shop Quartet and the Sixteens into a select chorus.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Lester, who attained the position of President of the New York State Art Teachers' Association in January of 1965, the art department continues its development.

Planned for this year were extensive use of visual aids and visits to Roberson Memorial making use of excellent opportunities to hear speakers from the art world along with the annual Scholastic Art Exhibit.

Chenango Valley hosts one of the most well-stocked libraries in the area. Excellent facilities provide students with resource materials for reports, and required reading as well as the most important of recent best-sellers for pleasure reading. On the shelves are biographies, histories, novels, and collections of short stories, a variety which has some things for almost all students.

Guidance is one of the most frequently visited offices within Chenango Valley. Behind its glass window, class scheduling, college applications, and personal interviews take place. Seniors are among the most common visitors, examining the shelves of college catalogues, vocational brochures, and scholarship notices posted on the bulletin boards. Guidance is responsible for scheduling informative visitations from college representatives and keeping seniors posted through senior bulletins.

Beth Friend surrenders her test to Mr. Snipe.

Comprehension

Under Mrs. Ruth Riter, chairman, the language department introduces foreign culture to the Chenango Valley students.

The French department this year sees the addition of Mr. Errol Snipe. Miss Mary Lou Lovette and the French Club sponsored the Jean Cocteau's award winning movie Orpheus. Due to the large student and adult response, French Club is planning to sponsor another movie in the spring.

Mr. Harold Rockwell combined the various language clubs into an International Language Club. Through his efforts foreign language students not only improve in their own language field but benefit by the mixture of cultures.

This year also saw the addition of Mrs. Zinaida Bajsel in the Russian department.

Under the supervision of Mr. James Wheeler as Chairman, the Business Department branches into various sections offering courses that are necessary to train the business-minded student for his career.

Bookkeeping, Office and Secretarial Practice, Business Law, Typing, and Shorthand comprise the general divisions of business subjects. These courses enable a student to prepare himself for occupations such as Accountant, Filing Clerk, Stenographer, Secretary or Business Teacher.

Health instruction is given by Mr. Wilson.

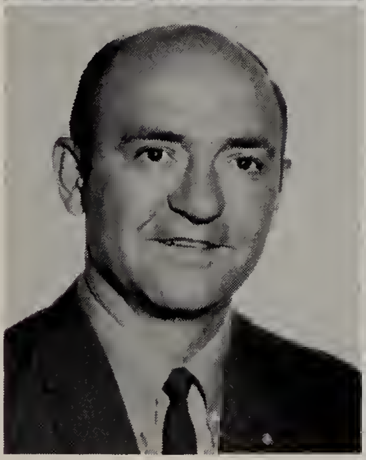
Presidential Interest Inspires Skills

Strong encouragement from Presidents Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson has helped physical fitness become a major part of education. Unwanted weight is lost and good physical condition is maintained with the help of vigorous skills and exercises.

Physical Education for this school consists of three major programs. Everyone is required to join in a gym class twice a week. Those wishing to expand on skills learned in class can attend intramurals of field hockey, volleyball or other sports. The gifted gymnasts go to a higher level of sports, competing interscholastically with other schools. Many students win scholarships for their talents in football, basketball, or track.

In the past, students have been continually relearning the same sports due to a mix-up in their ages. The Director of Health, Physical Education and Recreation is proud to announce a new policy of separation started this year. Arthur Sharpstein's plan divides the classes exactly by grades, permitting the well-instructed seniors to enter fields of sports which might be continued throughout their lives, such as golf, tennis and bowling.

Mrs. Sestak instructs seventh graders on orientation day.



No changes have been made in the physical education staff of Miss Esther Aswad and Mr. Carl Newton, senior high instructors, Mrs. Sandra Sestak and Mr. Peter Smyk of the junior high. Many thanks are owed to these faculty members who have coached the students for several years.

Health education's importance has progressed due to an increase of student interest promoted by Mr. Wilson. Varied subjects help students to understand hazards and good practices to follow in everyday life for their own protection.

Row 1: Miss Esther Aswad, Cortland State. Row 2: Mr. Carl Newton, Cortland State; Mrs. Sandra Sestak, Cortland State. Row 3: Mr. Peter Smyk, Ithaca College; Mr. Stanley Wilson, Brockport State.

Cheryl Morrisey receives instruction from Mr. McDaniel in Driver Education.

Health, Safety Of Students Stressed

Enthusiasm for Chenago Valley's Driver Education program has increased steadily in the past few years. With more students obtaining licenses, the opportunity for the insurance reduction and blue card through safe driving instruction has been used to its fullest extent. Driver Education students learn the correct, safe, sure way to drive, through both class sessions and actual driving experience.

Special Services are provided by experts in the fields of speech therapy, audio-visual aids and attendance. These professionals help students to learn more. Thoroughly, and more easily, as well as expressing a personal interest in the welfare of the pupils.

The health of Chenango Valley is the interest of our doctors, dentist, and nurse-teachers, who make it their business that each student is at his best.

Season In A Row

Fullback Bill Michalek powers his way past Sidney.

The Warriors went into a tough schedule hoping for a winning season. Things didn't look good at Norwich, our first opponent. They again posed a strong threat to the Chenango Valley eleven when late in the last quarter the Norwich Tornadoes were still out in front by one point. Finally Dave Wenn ran around end to give us the deciding touchdown which put us ahead when the final whistle blew.

The team went into the next game against Waverly in good spirits and came out in better spirits with a 19-0 victory. Waverly never got inside the C.V. 10 yard line, but we kept going until the final minutes. With this victory our defense was improved greatly.

The afternoon finally came when we met the tough Pennsylvanian team of West Scranton for the first time. The defense again showed their ability while the offense began to shine all over. With a 21-0 win, the outlook for the rest of the season was viewed with much optimism.

Mark Withers, John Casella, Fred Sisson, and Tom Weigle converge on Sidney halfback to throw him for minus yardage.

Coach Kaminsky questions referee's call with Scott Lauback.

Steve Freeh added an all time first to C.V. football. He became the first full-time and successful place kicker in Warrior history. Steve did exceptionally well in the game against Troy by kicking four out of five point after tries. He rolled up an astounding first year record of 7 conversions for 11 attempts using pro-ball player Don Chandler's kicking shoe.

Stan Rosenkrans goes for a long gain against Sidney.

CV Plays Rival

Owego presented the biggest scare. At half-time they were ahead by one touchdown. In the second half the Warriors put forth an all out effort to take over the lead which they did and kept until the end.

C.V.'s yearly rivalry with Maine-Endwell proved to be quite a game with the teams traveling up and down the field but never scoring. Near the end of the first half, Scott Lauback called two special plays made by Coach Durbin for certain circumstances. They both worked for a touchdown and Scott Lauback ran the extra point on a fake kick. Shortly afterward M.E. scored a touchdown but due to tight defense they failed to make the point after giving C.V. a final 7-6 margin over a tough competitor.

Both C.V. and S.V. had a few unfortunate breaks, but the dominating Warriors got off to a good start with Lauback scoring on a 40 yard run into S.V.'s end zone. Wiegele pulled in a Lauback pass and outraced all competitors for the second touchdown. S.V. tried to catch up but in vain and the final score was 12-6.

Fall Sports

John Casella defends against Sidney receiver.

Against Troy, team was very successful in getting on the scoreboard. Fullback Bill Michalek pounded through the Troy defense for 18 of the total scored. When the final whistle blew the Warriors had triumphed in a 34 to 13 victory.

In the final and toughest game, against Sidney, the contest was scoreless until the fourth quarter when Michalek scored the only touchdown for either side on a powerful plunge through a strong Sidney line for a 6-0 victory.

Following the absence of Junior High sports in the previous year the J.V. football team went through a building season. The Freshman Team completed a highly successful season with a 5-1 record. The Soccer players had an outstanding 8-5 record against Triple Cities opposition.

After compiling an undefeated season, and a string of nineteen consecutive victories, line Coach Kaminsky resigned along with Mr. Durbin. Coach Durbin finished his football career at C.V. with an outstanding 45-9-1 record and his leadership on and off the field was greatly appreciated by the players and students.

Third Section Title Falls To CV Runners

C.V. Harriers, coached by Bob McDaniel, finished the year with an 8-1 record. This team was probably the best in the six year history of the school.

An easy win at the M.E. Invitational started the season on a winning way. Their only lapse of the year came at Utica where they placed second to a strong Ossining team. The next week our cross-country men returned to their winning ways by placing first in the Baldwinsville Invitational with Ray Smith leading the way by placing first.

4th Straight T.C.L. Title

A strong C.V. team dominated the annual Sid Stock run with Ray Smith tied for first. John Reid followed with sixth place, Mike Satterthwaite seventh, Greg Leroy eighth, and Dave Brinsko eleventh. The C.V. Invitational was a total success with C.V. placing five runners in the top eight. The fine C.V. depth made this meet a complete rout of visiting teams.

A win at the Triple Cities Championship's meet at Harpur College was highlighted by two outstanding performances by Ray Smith and Doug Allen who placed first and ninth respectively. Satterthwaite was third, Brinsko fourth, Leroy fifth, and John Reid sixth.

With C.V. placing five runners in the top eight again, the Dudley Hare Invitational was a tune-up to the Sectionals which were held at I.B.M., with the team concentrating only on winning the team title and not individual honors, the C.V. harriers finished 2, 3, 4, 6, and 8. This was a fine win for the team and it allowed us to participate in the State meet as Section 4 champions.

Baldswinsville was the location for the State meet for Class A. The C.V. harriers surged to the front at the beginning and stayed in front for the whole race. Ray Smith ran probably the best race of his career, capturing the State individual honors by placing first in a time of 11:46 for the 2.4 mile course. This victory served as a fitting end to a tremendous season which highlighted fine individual efforts along with a strong team effort.

Climaxing a building job in cross-country at C.V. which brought about this fine season, coach McDaniel was chosen Coach of the Year by the Binghamton Press. Congratulations to the cross-country team which represented our school with fine sportsmanship and tremendous efforts in compiling this successful season.

Breaks School

Record books were rewritten as the team put together the best season in school history. For the second year in a row, we held the Triple Cities League Championship and were regarded as one of the best teams in the Southern Tier. The record of 13 wins in one season was surpassed with a 65-61 win over Johnson City. The first homecoming game was highlighted with an 89 point outburst over Central. As usual, trophies were brought home from the Christmas Tournament with victories over Norwich and the host team, Sidney.

After many discouraging years of J.V. Basketball, Coach Bob McDaniels has finally come up with a magnificent season. The Triple Cities coach of the year has driven his squad to an undefeated season in the Triple Cities' League, as of this writing; and they are undefeated in all non-league games except for a sole loss at Catholic Central. It was avenged, though, by a 78-43 victory at home.

Wrestling Success Reflects Fine Coaching

Coach Harvey's Varsity grapplers ended a very profitable season with 9 wins and 4 losses. This record put the Chenango Valley wrestlers in second place in the Triple Cities League. There were some individual honors to be cited. A record most likely to withstand many years of competition is that of Norm Donahue, wrestling at 95 pounds who is undefeated in 25 consecutive matches. Dave Snyder is also undefeated this season. Both of these wrestlers were seated in the sectional; 1st place and 12th place in the Eastern Division of Sec. 4.

Seven school records fell in the track team drive for the Northern Zone Championship last spring. Halving the season with 20 wins and 19 losses, track and field men won three dual meets and only lost one.

Records were broken in both sprint and distance runs as speedster Scott Lauback smashed the 220 yard run in 22.2 seconds, and sprinter Russ Rhodes broke the 120 yard high hurdles in 18 seconds flat. In the 880 relay, Tim Riley, Mark Withers, Jim Crosby and Scott Lauback put forth a united effort to fell the present record in 1:36.

In distance runs, Dave Brinsko holds the school record for the two-mile run by knocking six seconds off his own old record to give him a time of 9:51.

A Year Of Friendship For

Lissette Gerhard and Tim Riley, Rotary-sponsored exchange students from Mexico and Australia, spent a year at Chenango Valley. Tim arrived in February and left in December; Lissette came last summer and will leave in summer of 1965. The following, written by Tim, is an account of his impressions of the United States:

"The United States and Australia could not be very much further apart, but as the countries are distant, the people are similar, yet there is a difference. This difference, stemming through our histories and geographies is very hard to pin point but it is there.

"On New Years Day 1964, I was on a farm near a small town of Dalwallinu. This is my original hometown, set deep in the wheatlands of Western Australia, it is typical of hundreds in the state. It was, as the previous few days had been, hot, the temperature was in the low 100's, but this was usual for the time of year. Life is unaffected by the heat and goes on just as if it was below freezing. This I found out soon enough, as 7 weeks later I was shoveling snow in Chenango Bridge, New York.

"In fact, five weeks later, I had traveled half-way around the world, from temperatures where the lucky spend all day on the golden sand or in the blue surf of the Indian Ocean, to the beautiful white world of ice and snow, in a land where I was to spend the next year.

"Now as I prepare to leave, I recall many pleasant moments, things of interests and contrasts, which may seem ordinary to you, but to me have been something new. It started the day I arrived, this flood of new things, and the first was snow, as it did when I was driven up from New York City to Binghamton. The first thing I did when I saw an icicle was to eat it, it was something we read about at home and would never expect to see them hanging from the gutter of a house.

"My biggest task after arriving was to get to know the people, their customs and to make friends. This was very interesting, it opened a new world to me, getting out and talking to people, who I would normally never worry to get to know. It did not take long and soon I was enjoying the thrills of basketball, a sport which I had never seen played indoors before, with a group of new found friends.

"Although I traveled and saw many impressive sights, I will leave with a deep impression put there by the people I have met. It is perhaps very fitting that I left just after Thanksgiving because mine is all thanks. I must first mention those who were instrumental in getting me here, the men of the Nimmonsburg Rotary Club. These men were right behind me throughout the year, always willing to help. They made my stay relatively carefree and easy. It was the families of these men with whom I lived and got to know and this was one of the greatest joys of my year, getting to know America through family life.

"There are so many people I should thank but on top of the list are the administration, faculty and students of Chenango Valley High School. It has been a pleasure and honor being in and working with the classes of '64 and '65. I wish you all the very best."

Victory, Victory

Varsity Cheerleaders, with all of Chenango Valley, became accustomed to the cry of "Victory" during football and basketball seasons this year. Led by football captain Sandy Russell, the squad followed the team to all of the games. During the basketball season the cheerleaders followed a rotation pattern for captain.

Schuss-Boomers Schuss In Slush

Although the weather wasn't on the good side of the "schuss-boomers", the Chenango Valley Ski Club put up great efforts to be active during the winter months. Under the direction of Miss Lovette, Mr. Newton, and Mr. Munley, the annual lesson plan with the Greek Peak ski area was continued and proven to be a resounding success with the participating students.

In addition, plans were started to visit other ski resorts within the state. Movies also provided more instruction for members after school.

Officers for the Senior High Ski Club were: President, Bill Michalek; Vice-President, Dave Wenn; Secretary, Paula Brooks; and Treasurer, Sue Eaton.

A junior high ski club was premiered under the influence of Mr. Pendell and also took advantage of the ski lessons for its members.

One of the many yearly traditions at Chenango Valley is the Junior-Senior Basketball Game. Even though the class of '65 was beaten by the past graduates, it was determined to make a comeback against the present juniors. The class of '65, as "Jailbirds" challenged the Seniors, who were "Playboys."

Warrior Staff Preserves

Through hard work and much sacrificing of time, members of the staff, under the leadership of the advisor, Mr. Van Keuren, attempted to record for Chenango Valley students the year of 1965.

Saturday afternoons found staff members busy in the Press Room, conferring with Marilee Hill, Editor-in-Chief, and Craig Parsons, Assistant Editor, and surrounded by a mound of Bob Pollak's excellent photography amid the gentle barking of one very small dog belonging to Mr. Van Keuren.

"What do you mean I'm fired?"

School Year

Lively discussions about current topics found their way between mouthfuls of chocolate cake, cookies, and sandwiches as the new 1965 WARRIOR was in progress. Frequent visits by the Business Manager, Bric Wheeler, kept the funds balanced and the staff up to date on advertising policies.

The cooperation of students, teachers and administration has been widely appreciated in an effort to produce the most exciting yearbook to date at C.V.

Expressed Thru Print

Sales of the Quill hit a record high as students and faculty responded to the increased emphasis on writing stressed by journalism and English classes during the year.

The Quill took on a new look as commercial printing, a new page size, and new printing styles contributed to its fresh appearance.

Editor-in-Chief, Sharon Coon, Co-Editor, Janet Gammons, and Junior High Editor Janet Miller, worked to co-ordinate news and features with help of photographer Henry Derr and artist Bill Baylis.

Senior high advisor, Mrs. Snowden Crandall, assisted by Mr. Ralph VanKeuren and Junior high advisors Mrs. Erema Davis and Mrs. Esther Brooks, guided their staffs in news and feature writing styles.

Sharon attended a school newspaper and yearbook conference at Syracuse University this summer for two weeks where she won a Letter of Commendation for excellence in journalism.

Both junior and senior staffs worked hard to produce a much improved and well-received paper.

Comedy . . . Serious Drama . . .

In May of 1964, the Dramatics Club presented their first musical, The Boyfriend. Earlier in the school year they presented a one-act play, "It's cold in Them Thar Hills." May of 1965 saw the club present Richard II, a Shakespearean historical play. With the advisor, Mr. Richard Miller, officers for the 1964-65 year were: President Jack Worden; Vice-president Tudy Hansel; Secretary Andy Piza; Treasurer Vivan Martindale. Tech Crew worked closely with Dramatics and gave of their time at various school functions such as chorus assemblies and other evening programs.

Student Art Gains Area Recognition

Advancement of artistic ability is the purpose of the Senior Art Club, under the leadership of Mrs. Lester. Student artists won many blue ribbons in the annual Scholastic Art Show.

The Junior Leaders Club, under the direction of Mrs. Sestak, consists of girls who are outstanding in athletics and sportsmanship. They are chosen for their participation in intramural sports and their leadership abilities in the area of athletics.

A new introduction to Chenango Valley's extracurricular activity schedule is the Yorkers Club. Members of this organization study the history of New York and take field trips to various points of interest in the state.

Interests . . .

Chenango Valley's Debate Club operated under the jurisdiction of the New York State Forensic League. This year, with the advice and consent of Mrs. Vasiliki Volkwein, the club attacked the resolution that nuclear weapons should be controlled by an international organization.

The club divided into teams of two students each, who took either an affirmative or negative position on the topic. These teams debated among themselves, against teams from other schools, and participated in an assembly debate. Leading the club were: President John Rennell, Vice-president John Follet, Secretary Francene St. John, Assistant Secretary Fran Austin and Treasurer Bruce Duncan.

Stamp and Coin Club, under the supervision of Mr. Stanley Wilson, includes the philatelists and numismatists of Chenango Valley. Members collect and study postage stamps and coins.

Radio Club this year participated in a national contest in which contacts with other operators were made. Members use facilities at home, as well as in school, to talk with people in many parts of the world. They also aid interested students in getting their amateur licenses by teaching them the fundamentals of radio. Officers for the year were: President Tom Scott, Vice-president Dennis Franklin, Secretary-treasurer Pat Aurelio. Mr. Zenon Janowski was advisor for the club.

Service Benefits

Future Homemakers of America, under the supervision of Miss Martha Millen, performed many services for the students and faculty. Some of their activities included the sale of horns of plenty at Thanksgiving, and hosting the annual Faculty Christmas Tea just before the vacation started.

Red Cross, under the enthusiastic leadership of President Pat Aurelio, this year carried out its annual fund drive, hospital visits and entertaining of patients. During the holidays, the club helped a needy family with a Thanksgiving dinner, after raising money by a car wash and bake sale and by football concession stands. The club provided medical and dental care for needy children. Red Cross is the symbol of service to the school and the community.

Health careers club is open to anyone interested in a vocation in this field. Occupations are investigated and discussed.

Key To Success

Citizenship Through Service

Establishment of a student book store highlighted the activities of CV's Key Club this year. Goals of leadership and citizenship were attained through many contributions to the school and the community. Projects included the King Football Dance, contributions to various causes and selling tickets at sports events. Officers were: President, Scott Lauback; Vice-President, Chuck Conrad; Secretary, Russ Prichard; and Treasurer, Bob Reece.

Junior and Senior High library efficiency has been greatly increased by our school's library assistants. Giving up their study halls they perform such useful services as checking out books and shelving them. Their co-operation aids other students to make valuable use of the library.

Commercial course instruction is put to good use as members of the Business Club practice service to the school. By typing and mimeographing tests and bulletins, they save teachers valuable time. Other projects for the year included field trips and guest speakers at meetings. Officers for the year were: President, Cheryl Kobbe; Vice-President, Jeannette Nowicki; Secretary, Jeanne Sheffer; Treasurer, Rita Leonard; Publicity Chairman, Jane Pickering.

Leadership, Scholarship, Service

Kathy MacDonough lights candle of leadership.

Junior Honor Society under the guidance of Miss O'Connor this year continued to achieve their goals of service, scholarship, character, and leadership. The society worked toward their annual award to an outstanding senior by selling Warrior jewelry and holding bake sales. There was also the traditional tap day assembly and a helping hand at the Junior High open house. This year's officers were: President, Craig Harting; Vice-President, Jan Miller; Secretary, Kathy MacDonald; and Treasurer, Marie Pierce.

Character,

Leadership, scholarship, character and service are the ideals set forth by members of the Chenango Valley Chapter of the National Senior Honor Society.

Mrs. Miriam Copeland advised the Society whose elected officers were: President, Bric Wheeler; Vice-president, Linda Vaccaro; Secretary, Janet Larson; and Treasurer, Richard Briggs.

During its monthly meetings, Honor Society planned several service projects and set aside contributions to local funds and collections. Fifty dollars was also given in an annual donation to the Student Loan Fund.

Six members, including the officers, attended a sub-regional conference in September at North High School. Ideas and principles were discussed by Honor Society members from Southern Tier schools.

Mr. Galloway speaks at Sr. Honor Society tap day in November.

For The Students,

Chuck Conrad, Vice President, gives his views on Student Exchange Day Program.

One of the many programs undertaken by the council was a student exchange day between many other schools in the Triple Cities.

Under the leadership of the new officers: Andrea Truchan, President; Charles Conrad, vice president; Sue Smith, secretary; and Bob Reece, treasurer, Student Council has undertaken many new projects for the year 1964-65.

A needy family in the area was given food for their Thanksgiving dinner. This food was contributed by the entire student body.

Linda Zembek and Mike Ellis ponder issue being discussed.

By The Students

A new precedent in Chenango Valley was started by the crowning of our first homecoming queen, Sandra Russell, at a home basketball game.

The Student Council has, on top of these new projects, conducted their regular business helping to bring about better student-faculty relations.

President Andrea Truchan conducts meeting.

graduation . . . .

. . . the end . . . or the beginning?

YES . . . AND NO . . .

Graduation is the end of an era in your life.

It's also the beginning of a new era for you . . . a period when the responsibilities of adulthood suddenly appear.

"Bank standing" is something that will help you meet those responsibilities head-on. By doing business with a bank through use of checking, savings, loan or other facilities, you establish the financial reputation and maturity that today's successful person needs.

Throughout your life . . . the only bank you'll ever need is First-City.
